

Unicorn Therapeutic Riding

2020

COVID-19 Updates

We need your help to make Unicorn safe for all our students, volunteers and staff!

Practice Social Distancing

Please wait for your student in your car, and limit additional visitors for their sessions- this includes siblings and friends. If you must come into the barn, please keep a 6-foot distance wherever possible.

Masks MUST be worn to enter the barn!

All staff, volunteers, students and parents/guardians must wear a mask when coming into the barn. Students will be allowed to lower or remove their masks once they have mounted the horse, but they must be put back on when they are done riding.

Please do not come to the barn if you or a member of your household have been exposed to someone with COVID-19, have traveled in the last 14 days, or exhibit any of the following symptoms:

- Fever
- Cough
- Shortness of breath
- Nausea or vomiting
- New loss of taste or smell

Winter is here!

Winter barn and riding wear—warm gloves/hand warmers, warm socks, winter breeches and multiple layers make riding a lot more enjoyable!

Donate now

Erin Hurley is organizing this fundraiser to benefit Unicorn Therapeutic Horseback Riding Inc.

Construction is due to begin soon to finish our viewing room and accessible bathroom!

Fundraising

Thanks to our generous community, we have raised $3,420 through our GoFundMe campaign! We are just over half way to our goal!

Johnson & Johnson Grant

We are thrilled to be receiving a $2,500 grant from Johnson & Johnson, thanks to Sarah Nielsen!

Thank you to all who have donated!

HRH of New Jersey Horse Show

This September, nine Unicorn students were able to attend the HRH of NJ annual horse show at the Horse Park of New Jersey, along with riders from SPUR, Care from the Heart, and Hearts Therapeutic Riding Center

Our students all had great rides in their equitation, obstacles and dressage classes! We have always known our Secret Agent was an excellent therapy horse, but this year he and Avery Ball won the Barbara and Hanen Isaac Perpetual Trophy and made it official! Congratulations to all who participated!

We could not have done it without our incredible volunteers—Gillian was a wonderful judge for our dressage classes, Eliza (and Boo) did a great job representing us in the volunteer class, Karen and Olivia assisted the judge and helped keep the equitation ring running on schedule, and John, Ali, Grace and Edina helped take care of our horses and students—in and out of the ring!

Around the Barn

Welcome, Susie!

Susie, or CF Solaris, is an 18-year-old Arabian mare who was donated to us in October and has quickly become a barn favorite! Susie loves being groomed and teaching her students to trot!
